

Cam Kashani, SSD

Award-Nominated Transformational
Speaker, Teacher, Coach & Author

Cam Kashani, SSD, MBA, is an award-nominated Transformational Speaker, women's empowerment coach, Author and Podcast Host. Her purpose is to remind people, specifically women, of their power, in service of a more sovereign world. With her Doctorate in Spirituality, she has coached hundreds of women and spoken to thousands worldwide.

A serial entrepreneur who built four companies, she co-founded LA's first tech coworking space, Coloft, earning her the title "Godmother of Silicon Beach" with alumni including Uber LA and Instacart.

Selected as an Expert Speaker by the US State Department, Cam was sent to Kuwait and Bahrain to empower women in programs proven to ward off extremism.

Her company, Divinus LVX, is devoted to building conscious, sovereign leaders who create impact from alignment, truth, and self-leadership. Her book, Becoming Unfckwithable: A Woman's Guide to Transform Pain into Power, is available on Amazon. Cam believes that when women embrace their authentic power, we create collective transformation and a more harmonious world.
